

Privacy Notice

We protect your privacy. We do not sell, rent, or exchange customer information. We've established procedures to protect your privacy, which we vigorously uphold. Of course, this policy does not apply to information we are required to disclose by law, or in cooperation with law enforcement agencies.

Information regarding you (such as name, address, phone number, and email address) will not be given or sold to any outside organization for its use in marketing or solicitation.

The Lynnwood Chamber gathers navigational information about where you go on our websites and information about the technical efficiencies of our websites and services (i.e. time to connect to the website, time to download pages). This information allows us to see which areas of the Chamber Website are most visited and helps us better understand our customers' experience at our sites. This helps us improve the quality of visitors' experiences by recognizing and delivering more of the features, services and products visitors prefer. Additional non-personally identifiable information (i.e. domain type, browser version, service provider and IP address) may be collected which will provide information regarding your use of our websites (such as the time of your last visit to a page on our site).

Member information is gathered so we can better serve you, and we make every possible effort to ensure its security and to treat your information responsibly. When you register for an event, we ask for your name, address, e-mail address, and phone number. If there is a fee for the event, we also ask for your credit card number and its expiration date, should you select that method for payment. Once we have your credit card information, we will not ask for it again unless a change is required, or you request shipping to another address. Your order history information is maintained in order to service your account.

The Lynnwood Chamber believes in providing a safe and secure experience. We provide stringent and effective security measures on our website. It is our policy to never send your credit card number via e-mail. In fact, this is a practice we recommend you adopt in all of your Internet activities.

We designed The Chamber Website to accept orders only from Web browsers that permit communication through Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology; for example, 3.0 versions or higher of Netscape Navigator and versions 3.02 or higher of Internet Explorer. This means you'll be unable to inadvertently place an order through an unsecured connection.
